Wonderful Development For "Sunset Cliffs"

SPALDING ACREAGE TO UNDERGO SUBDIVISION
BY BIG PROMOTERS

Definite announcement has been made by John P. Mills that the large acreage of the famous Sunset Cliffs has been acquired from the heirs of the late A. G. Spaulding by Pantages, Mills, Shreve & Co., and is now being prepared for subdivision.

Mr. Mills states that the plans for improvement of the Sunset Cliffs property, which are now being worked out, will establish it as the finest residential district on the Pacific coast, with restrictions which will make it unique in all the world.

The villa sites will be unusually large, and the streets will be contoured in such fashion as to preserve the distinctive beauty of the cliffs. Electroliners will be installed and all streets will be paved; while restrictions it is stated will be in excess of $15,000 for the choicer portions of the tract, making it available to the requirements of the person who wishes a proper setting for a home costing upward of $25,000.

The picturesque beauty of the famous Sunset Cliffs section of Ocean Beach when the improved tract is placed upon the market says Mr. Mills, will bring to San Diego a considerable number of wealthy persons who will desire to acquire homesites on the Sunset Cliffs property.

WEITZEL CONVICTION

CAUSES VACANT SEAT

The conviction by jury trial of Harry K. Weitzel, on two counts of agreeing to accept bribes to influence official acts as a member of the common council, caused his seat in that body to be declared vacant early this week by his fellow members, just previous to the receipt of his resignation.

In superior court, with Judge Cabanis on the bench, the jury believed the evidence that Weitzel had

NEW LIBRARY NOW POSSIBLE

CITY COUNCIL

APPROPRIATES FUNDS FOR LAND PURCHASE

Last Monday the city council approved an ordinance appropriating $5,000 for library sites to be purchased by the library trustees in the communities of Ocean Beach and Logan Heights. Several sites have been under consideration for the beach branch library, bonds for which were lost by a small margin when voted upon at a recent city election. University Heights lost at the same time, but they afterwards secured a site and they recently secured an appropriation of $17,500 for a building, construction of which is now under way. Perhaps Ocean Beach will get a building some day.

The Faber-Peebles Radio Company particularly request that you consult them if you have any trouble with your radio and free service will be given.

Appreciation And Co-operation

POINT LOMA JUNIOR-SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Mr. Kirk Smith,
Editor "The Beach News,"
Ocean Beach, California.

My dear Mr. Smith:

I was pleased to receive the copy of "THE BEACH NEWS." It's "some" paper! I shall want to see it each week, so I am inclosing a check for $1.00 for my year's subscription.

I greatly appreciate the space you are giving to POINT LOMA HIGH, and I assure you that we shall be glad to do what we can for you from time to time.

May I call your attention to the fact that we are a JUNIOR-SENIOR High School; we're not going to use that title all the time, but, I'd like you to have it in mind so you won't refer to us just as the "Junior High School," as we have already been called. The fact that we are a Six-year High School is really a great asset to our patrons in many ways.

Thanking you for the favors we have and shall receive from you, I am,

Cordially,
PETE W. ROSS,
Principal, Point Loma High School.

In the presence of over 400 students and aided by the Naval Training Station band, the Grant Circle of the G. A. R. presented the Point Loma high school a beautiful American flag. The Naval Training Station band of over 40 musicians, led by R. D. Crampton, provided the music for the occasion. The three ladies of the G. A. R. who spoke were Mrs. A. Bradish, chaplain; Mrs. Alice Crogham, speaker of the day, and Mrs. O. Frevert, patriotic instructor. Mr. Pete W. Ross, principal of Point Loma high school, accepted the flag for Point Loma High. The Boy Scout troop, under Mr. A. J. Klaus, was very much in evidence and made the scene more impressive.

PLAYGROUNDS ABANDONED

ALL ACTION ON

ASSESSMENT DISTRICT
OFFICIALLY ENDED

The city council last Monday repealed all proceedings for the creation of an assessment district for a playground and civic center at Ocean Beach and the movement forwarded by various community organizations was declared abandoned.

There will be neither a special playground nor a civic center at Ocean Beach.

The final hearing before the city council was rather stormy in the way of protests and demands for an annulment of the improvement proposition.

American Education Week

EVERY CITIZEN

INVITED TO VISIT
PUBLIC SCHOOLS

An invitation to every parent, every taxpayer, every business man and every other person interested in education, to visit the public schools of San Diego and to see with their own eyes what is being done to make fit citizens of the rising generation, is the most prominent feature of San Diego's celebration of American Education Week, beginning next Monday, November 16, and lasting to and including Sunday, November 22.

President Coolidge has issued a proclamation setting forth these days as American Education Week, in which he says, in part:

"I urge that local officers, civic, social and religious organizations, and citizens of every occupation contribute with all their strength to the advance of education, and that they make of American Education Week a special season of mutual encouragement in promoting that enlightenment upon which the welfare of the nation depends."

In San Diego Education Week will be marked by a proclamation by Mayor John L. Bacon and special invitations by the San Diego School Board and by Supt. Henry C. Johnson, while newspapers and organizations throughout the city will co-operate in celebrating the week and urging citizens to attend the schools. The schedule of days announced by Supt. Johnson will be:

Monday, Citizenship Day; Tuesday, Vocation Day; Wednesday, Fundamentals Day; Thursday, Home Making Day; Friday, Use of Leisure Day; Saturday, Health Day; and Sunday, Character Day.

Delegations from the Parent Teacher Association and from the American Legion and the various service clubs of San Diego are to make a survey of the schools during Education Week, and San Diego ministers have promised to devote a portion of their services on Sunday, Nov. 22, to the cause of the schools.

Wall Street "Attacked" From the Air and Defended

There was great excitement in lower Manhattan the other day when the army staged a mimic airplane attack on Wall street, with anti-aircraft guns defending. When the bombs began falling someone turned in a fire alarm and the soldiers, firemen, police and curious crowds of spectators were all tangled up.

Quick Transmission of Photograph

The army demonstrated the other day that the transmission of photographs by wire during a war emergency can be accomplished with most gratifying results as to both speed and accuracy. An airplane flying over the disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., took this air view of the building and developed the negative and dropped it from the plane in a miniature parachute in seven minutes. It was handed the American Telegraph and Telephone company at 5 1/2 minutes after 10 o'clock and a negative and prints were delivered to a representative of Underwood & Underwood in Chicago at 18 minutes and 40 seconds after 10—a total elapsed time of 13 minutes and 10 seconds.

One-Control Set Is Very Popular

Hookup One of Latest and Can Be Easily Built by Amateurs.

By PERCY WARREN, in Radio World.

The one-control set will be very popular this season. The 1926 models, shown at the two radio shows in New York city, proved that. More than seventy manufacturers had one-dial sets.

The most economical one-dial receiver that will work a speaker is shown in the diagram. A double condenser is used. The wiring is shown. Even a novice will find it easy to follow.

Winding the Coils.
Assuming that the coils are to be wound at home each of the two may be put on a separate 3 1/4-inch diameter tubing, four inches high, with ten turns for the primary and 43 turns for the secondary, No. 22 DCC wire being used. The double condenser has two sections, each .0005 mfd. capacity. It is preferable to leave three-quarter-inch space between L1 and L2, with only three-quarters inch between L3 and L4.

Showing Schematic Diagram of the Wiring of the Set.

Winding in Same Direction.
All windings are in the same direction. Considering L1, the terminal (1) goes to aerial, (2) to ground, (3) to the G post of AFT1 and (4) to the grid of the reflexed tube, No. 1. The plate of this tube goes to (1) of L3, while (2) is connected to the P post of AFT2. Join (3) to the catwhisker of the crystal, if an adjustable crystal is used, otherwise to the low side (G) of a fixed crystal like the carborundum, which is quite voluminous. The other L4 terminal (4) goes to the G post of AFT1. This same lead is connected to the rotor of the tuning condenser. The stators of this condenser go to (4) of L2 and (3) of L4. The phase reversal in tube No. 1 is negated by the reversal obtained in L1L2. Note that the coupling transformer L3L4 has fields aiding.

High Wave Regeneration, Single Circuit Hookups

A kink for high wave regeneration with single circuit sets is here outlined. On a great many of these sets, the regeneration or ability to oscillate ends about midway of the wave length range. One very good remedy is to place a fixed condenser between .00025 and .005 from the ground to the ticker circuit at the point where plate coil connects to the P terminal of the audio transformer or to the phones.—Radio Digest.

RADIO WAVES

Local stations may be shut out with a loose-coupled tuner.

A covered wire is no better than a bare wire for a ground.

Soldering lugs should be used under every terminal in the set.

To experiment with all freak hookups is an expensive hobby.

A good aerial system should have a bright, clean surface throughout.

The life of batteries is lengthened when connected in series parallel.

Solder flows more readily if the iron is wiped frequently on a woolen rag.

Simple, tight mechanical connections are better than poorly soldered ones.

Community Building

City Healthful Comes Before City Beautiful

"Public health is basic municipal work, and should be accorded a more important place among municipal activities," said William P. Capes, secretary of the New York state conference of mayors and other municipal officials, in a talk broadcast from station WGY, Schenectady, recently, the New York Times states.

"Unless a municipality is healthful," said Mr. Capes, "it is no fit place in which to live, to work and to play. Before we can have the city beautiful, the city contented, the city efficient, we must have the city healthful. That is why the New York state conference of mayors and other municipal officials always has been keenly interested in health work; that is why this organization of 60 cities and 30 first-class villages has for the last 15 years been promoting efficient health regulations and organization and keeping local health officials informed about public health activities and proper public business management.

The first gathering of city officials, which resulted in the organization of the mayors' conference, was called in 1910 for the sole purpose of considering public health questions. This epoch-making event was the beginning of the movement which later resulted in a reorganization of the state health department, and following it 92 per cent of the annual messages of the mayors dealt principally with local health problems.

"A few years later the conference urged the scoring of city health work. A member of the state department of health, trained in both public health and municipal work, went annually from city to city and, by a scientific method of scoring, learned the efficiency and value of each local health activity. This not only showed each city administration where its public health work was effective or weak, but also created a rivalry among the municipalities and succeeding local health administrations which produced better health protection.

The work of the mayors' conference leaves no doubt about its attitude on public health. It is basic municipal work.

Principle of Zoning

Cities Making Gains

More than 26,000,000 people were living in zoned municipalities at the close of the first six months of 1925, according to a report just issued by the division of building and housing of the United States Department of Commerce.

The report shows that in the last four years the principle of zoning cities so as to define districts for various uses, residential, commercial or industrial, has come so generally into adoption that the number of people living in zoned communities has in that period increased more than 130 per cent.

In the past four years the number of municipalities which have zoning ordinances has increased more than seven times. The number is now 366.

Of the 33 largest cities in the country 27 now have zoning ordinances. Three cities of more than 100,000 population, Denver, Colo.; Hartford, Conn., and New Bedford, Mass., have adopted zoning ordinances within the last six months. Altogether, 46 cities adopted zoning ordinances during the period from January to July, 1925.

Five states hitherto without enabling acts for zoning have enacted zoning legislation during the first half of 1925. They are Maine, New Hampshire, Utah, Idaho and Arizona.

Harmonizing Planting

No grounds are too small that planting will not greatly enhance the desirability of the home. Too much cannot be said on harmonizing the planting with the adjoining property. This is particularly true of the parkways, where uniform trees through the entire block are necessary, and ordinances generally protect the larger suburbs, but are overlooked in the smaller ones, and in the city it is not enforced consistently. Nature will express herself around the home soon and out-door living rooms can now be realized with bloom and fragrance in just a few short weeks so that back yards and front yards should be no more and in their places a new attitude.

Playgrounds in 700 Cities

Since 1885 more than 700 American cities have established public playgrounds and recreation centers for children. The first was in Boston and was called a "sand garden." The idea was imported from Germany and is being copied the world over.

Worth of Paving

Nothing is better for a town than well-paved streets. No town has arrived until it is paved. With paving, it may become a city. Without paving, it must remain a burg. The same applies to a county. A county with paved roads is a county well advanced in satisfaction.—Dallas News.

Garden a Beautifier

First thing that anybody can do to beautify a little town is to plant a flower garden—a big one.

BROUGHT RELIEF AFTER 2 YEARS SUFFERING

"The makers of Tanlac will always have my warmest thanks, for I don't consider it any exaggeration to say I owe my life and present good health to Tanlac," is the striking statement of Andrew Groeschner, fireman.

"Words simply can't express the misery I endured for 2 years from indigestion. At times gas pains would catch me around the heart and almost cut off my breath. These awful pains would last two and three hours. My nerves were all unstrung. I slept poorly and got in such a bad way that my days seemed to be shortening rapidly.

"I tried everything, but disappointment was my only reward until I began taking Tanlac. I have been taking Tanlac off and on for a year now and feel so different that there's no room for comparison. I eat good and sleep good and feel that Tanlac has given me a new lease on life."

EDITORIALOCEAN FRONTAGE DEVELOPMENT

With the announced acquisition by Pantages, Mills, Shreve & Co. in their purchase of the immense Spalding acreage, on beautiful Sunset Cliffs, a most wonderful development of the far-famed ocean frontage is confidently foretold, provided some pieayunish protest is not placed in the progressive path of the optimistic promoters.

It has been intimated by the powers-that-be in the municipal government that there must be a boulevard surrounding the water edges of San Diego in order to further plans for "a city beautiful."

Ye gods, don't let anyone profane the wondrous beauty of our beloved Sunset Cliffs with planning commissions.

A boulevard 'round the city's rim may fit in some localities, yet the idea is far from applicable and certainly is in no wise practicable on the great ocean frontage of picturesque Point Loma.

For instance, the erosions made by the surging sea have caused such deep and dangerous indentations in the coast that a boulevard conforming to the topography of the cliffs would be hazardous in the extreme.

Necessarily a short street or road would have to be of such a serpentine nature that the twist and turns would be woefully worse than the hairpins and corkscrews of the most crooked mountain highway.

Considered from another angle, it should be remembered that to preserve and protect a seashore boulevard from the savage attacks of old ocean, the city would be put to immense expense for the construction and maintenance of seawalls and abutments here and there along the cliffs.

In its angry moods, the Pacific has already cut huge gashes in the heads of several beach streets, and the whirling waters eat into the earth with no man-made resistance, any boulevard to the contrary notwithstanding.

SAFEGUARDING AMERICA

The essential characteristic of true liberty is that under its shelter many different types of life and character and opinion and belief can develop unmolested and unobstructed. Nowhere could this shelter be more necessary than in our own country with its different racial stocks, variety of faiths, and the manifold interests and opinions which attest the vigor and zest of our intellectual life.

Paul Douglass and family have moved from 4655 Bermuda avenue to 4875 Del Mar avenue.

SUNSET CLIFFS

John P. Mills announces for the firm of Pantages, Mills, Shreve & Company that they have acquired from Mrs. A. G. Spaulding, the ownership of that two hundred twenty-seven acres of land on Point Loma comprising the property known as Sunset Cliffs.

This property will be immediately subdivided into villa sites and placed on the market. The subdivision of this property, of course, will require some time and it cannot possibly be placed on the market until some time around January 1st.

However, when completed, we believe it will comprise the highest-class residential district, possibly not alone in San Diego but on the entire Pacific Coast.

It will be more highly restricted than any other property in the city of San Diego and it will be very highly improved, with all of the latest improvements, including paved streets and electroliers.

Announcement of the opening of this property should bring home to every individual in San Diego the fact that Point Loma is almost unquestionably destined to become the future show place of San Diego. Properties totaling many hundreds of thousands of dollars have already been sold by this organization in Point Loma. Nineteen new houses, all of the finest type, have either been completed or are under construction on our present properties.

There can be no question but what with all of the development taking place on Point Loma, and particularly with the opening of Sunset Cliffs as a high-class residential district, that the present era of low prices for properties will not continue.

At the present time we are offering properties comprising fifty-foot lots with a splendid view, for as little as five hundred dollars a lot; and regardless of the progress and developments which have taken place since we opened our properties, we are still offering all of them at the original opening prices. This, however, will not be for long, as we are anticipating a decided increase in all of our properties at a very early date.

SUNSET CLIFFS NOW OPEN TO THE PUBLIC FOR AUTOMOBILE TRAFFIC AT LOWER END. WE FOUND IT NECESSARY TO CLOSE THIS ROAD FOR A FEW DAYS OWING TO THE RECENT RAINS WHICH WASHED OUT A PORTION OF THE ROAD AND MADE TRAFFIC EXTREMELY DANGEROUS.

Tribute to Mrs. Anne T. Haines

BEAUTIFUL AND BEFITTING CELEBRATION OF
NINETY-FOURTH BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

On Nov. 6th, 1925, Father Time called on Mrs. Anne Temperance Haines, and brought with him for her a wonderful gift:—ninety-fourth birthday anniversary!

Admiring friends gathered on Point Loma last Friday to celebrate the day with her, and among the gifts she received were two marvelous floral combinations—one of roses, carnations and chrysanthemums and the other a glowing mass of burnt-orange-hued calendas, each bouquet numbering ninety-four blooms!

This dear, old lady is remarkably hale and hearty, wonderfully keen and alert, and is in full possession of all her faculties. She is very active; never sits with idle hands, always finds something to keep her fingers occupied. She is the first of the family up in the morning, and prepares the coffee for the others, though she does not partake of the decoction herself.

She has grown old as a member of the W. C. T. U., the White Badge always in evidence. She is also the oldest member of the Eastern Star lodge in the east, with which she is yet affiliated, and where she has another married daughter living.

Second nuptials made her a member of the Church of Friends, Mr. Haines having been a Quaker, since whose passing she has made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lamkin, her daughter and son-in-law, at Point Loma. And in the midst of the affection of four generations, that love and cherish her, she still fondly nurses the hope she may yet live to see the fifth generation.

When J. Whitcomb Riley wrote:

"Oh, let us fill our hearts up with the glory of the day,
And banish ev'ry doubt and care and sorrow far away;
For the world is full of roses, and the roses full of dew,
And the dew is full of heavenly love that drips for me and you"

he might have dedicated those lines to her, had he known her, for her life has been full of roses dripping heavenly love for all who have met and known her, being a continuous exemplification of the Golden Rule, which she LIVES.

May the GIVER of this gift forget to recall this beautiful soul for many years to come, is the silent prayer of all who know and love her!"

JOYFUL CELEBRATION OF WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. John Chamblin celebrated the second anniversary of their wedding with a happy family party last Tuesday evening at their home in Mission Beach. Enjoyable games were played, interspersed with delightful stories, and refreshments were served. The sprightly young Chamberlin, Junior, just fifteen months old, came in for a good deal of attention, of course. The guests included the mother of the hostess, Mrs. N. H. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Griswold, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Woods, and Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Woods. Mr. Chamblin is an expert mechanic employed at the Mission Beach Garage on Mission boulevard.

MISS ADELINE WHALING WINS WRIST WATCH PRIZE AT SWIMMING MEET

The first sanctioned Amateur Athletic union swimming meet held at Anaheim, Calif., drew an immense crowd and was largely attended by swimming celebrities of Southern California. It is stated that competition was keen and close in all of the events, and much local interest is created in the result of the 100-yard free style for women, which was won by Adeline Whaling of 4811 Cape May avenue, in a tie finish, gold wrist watches being the prizes. Miss Whaling is a strong, graceful and speedy swimmer, who recently won a silver medal at Mission Beach. She also finished a close second in the 50-yard event on Armistice Day.

These lines were slipped in by the printer after the regular "Kollum" was ready for the press. And it's all because Katherine had a happy birthday anniversary last Sunday, when Ye Editor presented her with a beautiful silver loving cup, bearing a handsomely engraved inscription of his husbandly remembrance. Numerous pretty and useful gifts and congratulatory messages from friends and relatives also kept Katherine cheerfully reminded of the joyous occasion. Many, many happy returns of the day!

AROUSING INTEREST

The new study department of the Woman's Club of Ocean Beach already shows indications of being both successful and instructive, and it seems likely that new local interest will be aroused in California's most picturesque relics of the past—the old Missions.

At the first meeting, Dr. Lena Cresswell's able outline of study was an incentive, and many interested listeners caught the spirit of enthusiasm and expressed a desire to pursue the subject further.

The Woman's Club wishes to make it clear that everyone is most sincerely invited to come to this new class. Attendance is not confined to its members; and it is hoped that this division of the Club will become noteworthy by the general interest shown.

On November 16th, two addresses will be given, one on "Impressions of the Mission Play," by Mrs. W. W. Burch; and the other, "The Missions in General, but Particularly their Romantic Side," by Mrs. Maud M. Stuart. A round table will be inaugurated, at which opportunity and encouragement will be given to all to express their opinions in three-

FALL MODES IN PARTY FROCKS; FORMAL TYPES IN PARIS BLOUSES

SO LONG as the flowers that bloom in the spring, or any other time, are a gladness and dear to our hearts, just so long we will wear flowered frocks for dancing. Here is one, with certain hallmarks of the new fall modes, proclaiming its up-to-dateness, worn in the company of shoes that bear out this testimony. It is a simple affair of flowered chiffon, worn over a silk slip, with moided lines in the body and flared flounce placed very gracefully on the skirt portion. Its background color is blue in a delightful shade, and pastel shades of rose, green and other colors appear in the printed flowers.

Dance frocks this season are quite particular in the choice of shoes that

Queen Mary must have sensed the trend of the coming mode this fall when she chose to wear a genuine jeweled pin on her hat. "This way splendor lies" might well be inscribed along the path of fashion, for it leads to the richest and most regal-looking fabrics—not only in headwear but in all outer apparel.

Paris designers have seized upon this phase of the mode in creating blouses of formal character and those tunic blouses that prove so useful as an adjunct to a modest supply of afternoon or dinner gowns. The ensemble blouse that may be worn with a skirt all its own, and with other skirts as well, is included among them, and the more or less dressy styling of are to be their partners—such shoes must wear their colors—if only in a little rosette. The smart black, kid pumps shown in the picture have a border of blue about the top and a rosette of blue and black ribbon at the front—thus proclaiming themselves in harmony with the color choice in the dress. Plain black kid pumps are varied by changing the ornaments on them. But sometimes party frocks are worn with shoes of blond kid with stockings to match and this footwear harmonizes with the color in the dress and looks particularly well with party frocks of gold lace.

Metallic laces, metal brocade and other metal fabrics lead the process blouses, even in the plainer materials, makes these important. Just what Paris contrives with plain, lustrous crepe-satin in black is shown in the two models pictured. In the blouse at the left platings of coral georgette and coral buttons adorn a straight, simply designed model, the plating edged with fine soutache braid in gold color. A belt of gilded kid completes it. The other blouse is equally simple and successful with platings of the satin and many-colored embroidery giving it tone. A scarf of georgette with the same embroidery may be added for further elaboration—when needed—and is very graceful. Blouses of this type are made fingertip or wrist length. Tunic blouses or ation of beautiful materials for evening dresses and wraps, followed by various kinds of velvet and by satin, tulle, chiffon and georgette. To be rich and gleaming and fine is the ambition of the evening mode and fashionable fabrics conspire together to achieve the mode's desire. Velvet is used for trimming and in rich girdles, chiffon or georgette form color backgrounds for gold laces, and of these light tones of green with gold seem to capture the eye and hold it very often. The main silhouette remains slim with varied flaring skirt effects discreetly managed to set off the slenderness of the body lines.

Crepe de chine and satin remain the favorite materials for practical blouses and the mode demands long sleeves in these. Many of them have erect collars but there is great variety in necklines and finishes. Black and dark colors lead, brightened with trimming of contrasting materials—which often forms the lower sleeve—or is applied in bandings.

HOW TO MAKE TOOTH SOME FRUIT BUTTERS

In Many Communities Apple Butter Is Made Over an Open Fire.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
To many people fruit butter means apple butter and nothing else; but good as well-made apple butter is, that made from pears and peaches is equally good, and a supply made from different fruits will add variety to the preserve shelf.

The following recipes for various kinds of fruit butters have been tested in the laboratories of the United States Department of Agriculture, and are recommended as delicious and wholesome.

Apple Butter With Cider.

The peeled and sliced apples may be cooked in the boiled cider to make the butter in one operation or they may be made first into apple sauce, which is then cooked in the boiled cider. With apples of coarse texture the latter method is no doubt preferable; otherwise the method to be used is one of personal choice, as both make equally good butter. The cooking should be continued until the cider and apples do not separate, and the butter, when cold, will be as thick as good apple sauce. The thickness is determined at frequent intervals by cooling small portions.

It usually takes about equal quantities of sweet cider and peeled and sliced apples to make butter of the right consistency. In other words, 5 gallons of sweet cider should be boiled down to 2½ gallons, and 5 gallons of peeled and sliced apples should be added to it either uncooked or as apple sauce.

Two of the essentials of making good apple butter are long, slow cooking (4 to 5 hours) and constant stirring. If sugar is used, it should be added after the cooking of cider and apples is about two-thirds done. About a pound of either white or brown sugar is the usual proportion per gallon of apple butter, but more or less (or not any) may be used to suit the taste. Apple butter is spiced according to taste, about half a teaspoonful each of ground cinnamon, cloves, and allspice being used for each gallon. These are stirred into it when the cooking is finished.

While still boiling hot, apple butter should be packed in hot sterilized glasses, glass jars, or hermetically sealed stone jars, with tightly fitting covers, and processed in a steamer. It is to be kept for some weeks or months.

Apple Butter With Grape Juice.

If a grape flavor is desired in apple butter it may be obtained by the use of grape juice. To each gallon of peeled and sliced apples, cooked into sauce and strained, 1 pint of grape juice, 1 cup of brown sugar, and ½ of a teaspoonful of salt should be added. These should cook slowly and be stirred often for two hours or until of the desired thickness, then stir in 1 teaspoonful of cinnamon and pack hot in hot containers and sterilize.

Pear Butter.

The pears should be ripe enough to cook up well. After being peeled they are cored and sliced, put in a preserving kettle with a little water, and cooked slowly until soft. The sugar is then added, 1 cup to 1 quart of sliced pears, and cooking is continued very slowly, with frequent stirring, for 1½ to 2 hours. The butter should then be smooth and of the consistency of thick apple sauce. A little lemon juice, with ginger, cinnamon, or other spices to taste, should be well stirred into the hot butter. Pack while hot in hot scalded containers and process with steam.

Peach Butter.

Put the peaches in a wire basket and dip them in boiling water a few seconds until the skin slips—test by raising the fruit out of the water and rubbing the skin between the fingers. Dip the peaches into cold water, peel, and pit them. Well-ripened freestone varieties are best. Mash the pulp, and cook it in its own juice without adding water. If it is rather coarse, put it through a colander or coarse wire sieve to make a butter of fine texture.

To each measure of pulp add a half measure of sugar, cook slowly, and stir frequently until the product is of the desired thickness. The meats of several pits may be cooked either whole or sliced in each gallon of butter. While still hot pack in scalded jars or glasses with tight-fitting tops and process, or cover with hot paraffin.

CAN AND SAVE ALL SURPLUS APPLES

Many of Early Varieties Do Not Hold Up in Storing.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Storing apples fresh for later use is of course the best possible way of keeping them if it can be done. Many of the early maturing varieties, however, will not hold up in storage, and also there are oftentimes windfalls and imperfect apples that must be used at once if used at all. To prevent wasting these apples, the United States Department of Agriculture suggests "putting them up" in various ways.

The housewife may can her apples in any of the ways which will result in a canned product that is easy to use in the form she is apt to need it. For instance, if she makes apple pie often, she may prefer simply to pare, core, and slice or quarter the apples, so that when she opens a can it is ready to be made into pie. In this case, avoid adding too much water. If the family likes apple sauce, some of the surplus and windfall apples may be cooked first and the hot sauce then canned. Green apples make a particularly good sauce with a taste of nutmeg or cinnamon for those who like spices. Another way is to can the apples whole, either boiled in sirup or baked as for serving. Canned baked apples may be dressed up for company use and special occasions, by being spiced and colored with cinnamon drops. These whole apples are canned hot.

The water-bath method of canning is recommended for apples by the department. A water-bath may be a wash-bathtub or any covered vessel of sufficient depth for the jars or cans to be completely immersed while processing, and equipped with a rack, or false bottom. The pressure canner at 212 degrees F. may also be used for apples.

When the apples have been cut in pieces, they are usually packed directly into the jars and covered with boiling hot medium sirup. This is made by bringing to the boiling point one part of sugar to two parts of water. The rubbers and tops are placed on the jars, and springs are adjusted halfway, or screw-tops placed on loosely. If the canning is done in tin, the cans are sealed completely. The jars or cans are then placed in the canner. Quart jars are processed for 20 minutes, pint jars for 15 minutes, and No. 2 or No. 3 cans for 10 minutes, counting the time as soon as the water surrounding the jars begins to boil actively.

Apple sauce is packed hot into the jars and processed for five minutes. Baked or boiled apples are covered with hot medium sirup and also processed five minutes. When the time is up, remove the jars from the canner, seal airtight at once, invert, and place out of drafts. Cool tin cans immediately by plunging them in cold water.

All jars and cans should be so marked that each lot can be identified. Keep them at room temperature for at least a week. Discard any showing signs of spoilage and watch others of the same lot until it is certain that they are keeping.

CHEMISTRY

The subject of chemistry promises to be an interesting one. Mr. Easton, instructor of chemistry and mathematics, has emphatically informed his classes that only a teacher can control, and that if the students, after taking science for a year, learned to concentrate, the year would not have been wasted. We agree with you, Mr. Easton!

BOATS

"Water on the brain" could be used in describing Mr. Dildine's wood working classes, for fully 50 per cent are engaged in building boats. Some are aspiring to great heights, or rather, lengths, for some of the boats are over 15 feet long; others are merely energetic, and are working industriously making row-boats, while some are engaged in the fascinating work of building model boats. Somebody who has a lot of courage, and who is fleet of foot, ought to inform Mr. Dildine that the "big flood" is over and that no more "arks" are needed!

SUCCESSFUL OPENING

STRAND SWEET SHOPPE
ON NEWPORT AVENUE

Clifford Harrison and Alan Belmont have opened the Strand Sweet Shoppe in the new Strand Theatre building on Newport avenue with every augury of success. The store at the left of the lobby entrance has been fitted up very invitingly and everything has a spick and span appearance. Special booths have been provided and the fine fountain is equipped with modern conveniences. There is a complete stock of fresh candies and confections, as well as cigars and cigarettes, while ice cream and all sorts of soda fountain drinks may be obtained with prompt and courteous service.

B. S. A. NEWS

Contributed by Sam Lipsett.

Troop 29 of Ocean Beach was well represented at the Boy Scout Court of Honor last Friday, Nov. 6. An Eagle badge, a life badge and two star emblems were added to the collection of Troop 29. S. Lipsett was the only Scout at the court who received the Eagle reward. Frank Snyder was one of the three Scouts presented with the "Life" award. Willis Kenline and Bailey Burdette, two of the most enthusiastic Scouts in Troop 29, received star badges. These six Scouts gave Troop 29 the highest percentage of awards for rank at the court.

GENEROUS FAVOR

FOR OPENING WEEK AT NEW STRAND THEATRE

Mr. and Mrs. Ray G. Ericsson are very grateful for the numerous complimentary expressions and many beautiful floral tokens of good wishes bestowed upon them at the grand opening of the new Strand theatre on Friday, Nov. 6, and throughout the past week. Owner-Manager Ericsson has smoothed out all the little kinks that invariably attend an inaugural and is deserving of high praise for the excellent improvement manifested in the program of film productions. A new model projecting machine has been added to the operating equipment and several additions have been made to the auditorium for the comfort and convenience of patrons of the new Strand theatre.
